Joslyn, prices of the paintings are $750.00 per square foot. Prices that are underlined ($8,000.00) are $500.00 per square foot. The reason for this is these paintings were slightly more easily completed (with large areas of white or brushed-on color).

However, there are times when large areas of color are still applied with my general method of application, an old dissection probe from my Dad's dissection kit from his U of A student days. This probe allows me to apply paint with precision on the wood panels; the wood panels also allow a precision that the weave of a canvas does not.

(n.v.s.): This is an abbreviation for New Vocabulary Series. New words are observed by the alignment of the letters of the color nouns.

(elemental): An elemental painting has the 'element' of square/triangle/circle.

I was born 11.13.59, a Friday! Self-taught artist.

I was in my 5th year of University when I wrote two poems one night and had the revelation of creation for the first time in my life. I dropped out and just worked jobs and wrote poetry for a few years. Then when the angst wore out, I started painting my doodles and the second revelation occurred. Found it.
